Indiana Guardsmen Move To Ranges

Only One Minor Accident Mars Long Trek Of 1,400 Military Vehicles

Grayling, Michigan — The 38th Infantry Division arrived at Camp Grayling Sunday for its annual two week summer training encampment.

Commanding General Wendell C. Phillips termed this year's march the best ever. Gen. Phillips said proper intervals between vehicles in the main column allowed near normal traffic flow despite the unusually heavy weekend traffic. Several units encountered heavy thunderstorms in portions of north and central

Indiana

The only accident recorded for the 1,400 vehicles which made the trip occurred during the advance movement by 38th Div. Trains. The accident occurred Friday morning when a jeep driven by Pfc. Robert L. Patterson collided with a semi-trailer truck when the private vehicle made a sudden stop. The accident took place at the intersection of Ind. 37 and 9 near Marion.

Patterson was not injured, but the front fender and hood of the jeep were dented and the vehicle was left at the Marion army.

Among the visitors expected at Camp Grayling during the field training of the 38th Division will be Brig. General M. W. Schaefer, Deputy Chief of Staff of Reserve Components; Miss Judy George, Miss Indiana National Guard; Miss June Cochran, Miss Indiana National Guard; and Miss Mary Biddle, Deputy Commander of Fifth Army. Besides many representatives from Indiana's newspapers and radio stations.

City Police Investigating Three Breaking-In Cases

The Grayling City police department is carrying on an investigation on three breaking and entering cases in which money was stolen in each instance. On July 19, the Grayling City Club house was broken into and a sum of money taken and on July 21 both the Aulsebrook Service Station and Spitz's Key O'Nails were entered and money stolen.

Donald C. Lynch, 24, of Detroit was arrested by the Grayling City Police Friday night at 10:30 p. m. and charged with reckless driving. He was picked up after he lost control of his car, striking a city light pole at Alger and Oliver streets shearing it off. He appeared before Justice of the Peace Olin Williamson on Saturday and entered a plea of guilty. He was fined $20 and costs of $75 and given a 90 day jail sentence which will be suspended when he makes restitution to the city of $125 for the light pole. Lynch was also charged with stealing a military vehicle from Camp Grayling. City Police said. He will be turned over to the military authorities to face this charge.

Jack Bailey of Grayling was arrested last Wednesday by the City Police on a charge of assault and battery. He appeared before Justice Olin Williamson and pleaded guilty. He was given a $25 fine, costs of $75 and 90 days in jail. All three were suspended and he was placed on probation.

Former Resident Dies At Bay City Hospital

Funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude Persons Smith were held Monday at 2 o'clock at the Gehlert Funeral Home in Bay City, with the Rev. T. Leonard Sanders officiating. Interment was in Oak Ridge Cemetery, with her five sons and Michael Smith serving as pallbearers.

Mrs. Smith had been a Bay City resident for the past 50 years. She was born March 7, 1889, in Genesee County, and was married to Floyd D. Smith in Grayling in 1902. A graduate of the class of 1898, Mrs. Smith attending the Grayling High School. Alumni banquet every year until her illness this year. She died Friday, July 22nd, at Samaritan Hospital in Bay City after a short illness.

Survivors include her husband, five sons, Howard, Gerald, Francis and Guy, all of Bay City, and Floyd Jr., of Saginaw; two daughters, Mrs. Haden Williams of Bay City and Mrs. Roger Herring of Algonac; 2 grandchildren and five great grandchildren; two brothers, Frank Persons of Minnesota and Floyd Persons of Saginaw; and four sisters, Mrs. Myrtle DeLaMater of Grayling, Mrs. Grant Wilhoite of Lansing, Mrs. Roland Smith of Missouri, and Mrs. Arthur Martin of Detroit.

One Of City's Older Homes Removed

Earlier this month, one of Grayling's older homes left the scene where it had stood for nearly 50 years. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burns purchased the home at 301 Spruce street from the Ella Sammons estate which is next door to their home at 307 Spruce.

The land was first transferred from the State of Michigan to a Frederic Hall in 1889 and was platted about 1874. The house was apparently built around 1892 by a Mr. Jensen.

Ed Walker of Grayling bought the house from the Burns and moved it 2 miles east and a half of mile south of Grayling where it is being rebuilt. The house at one time was owned by Dr. Henry Merriam.

The building has become in quite a rundown state and the Burns will now landscape the area where it had stood for nearly 50 years. The change on the street has been almost miraculous as the new wing was added to the Michelson Memorial church and the new addition placed on the Doctors Clinic building. Now with the removal of the old house, the neighborhood has been greatly improved. It is an example of what can be accomplished.

Golf Club Aux.

Twenty-five members of the Golf Club Auxiliary turned out for play last Wednesday. There was a tie for low net by Eunice Stussor and Jean Sisk, and in the drawing Mrs. Sisk won the prize. During this training, Cadet Smith is receiving practical experience and instruction in tactical, technical and administrative subjects, with special emphasis being placed on the duties of a second lieutenant.

Smith is a student at Central Michigan University. He is a 1937 graduate of Grayling High School.

Some of the 500 men and officers of the 1st Battle Group, 225th Infantry of Detroit who were airlifted to the Grayling-McNamara Air Base for their training this year at Camp Grayling, are shown above awaiting orders to board the C-119 Flying Boxcars last Saturday morning for their return trip to Detroit.

Former Resident Served On Collision Destroyer

The naval destroyer USS Collett which collided with the USS Ammen about 30 miles southwest of Los Angeles in the Pacific Ocean Tuesday, July 19th, was the ship of a former Grayling resident, Gerald Rager, who now lives in Toledo, Ohio. Gerald Rager, R. D. M. 1/c, was a crew member of the Collett from the day she was commissioned, May 16th, 1934, at the Boston Navy Yard, until after World War II was over. His mother and stepfather, Velma and Hurl Deckwer, were present at the commissioning ceremony. Mrs. Deckwer having written a poem in salute of the Collett which was read at the ceremony and signed by the Ship's master, Commander James D. Collett, brother of the man, for whom the ship was named. Hurl's brother, Oscar Deckwer, who was working in the Boston shipyards at the time, was also present at the commissioning. Part of Gerald's service aboard the Collett was in the Pacific during World War II.

Letters To The Editor

Sir: Because of the almost 100% cooperation between the property owners association, canoe liveries and other sportsmen, the AuSable situation is steadily assuming a more prominent place in the eyes of the canoeing public. However, there are several points which should, we think, be brought to the attention of these groups.

Paramount among these is the possession of firearms of any description on the streams in the hands of novices or malicious teen-agers. It must be understood that under our Michigan laws, most persons of any age can carry guns of many descriptions on the streams without any type of license, this of course, includes BB guns or pellet guns, both pistol and rifle type.

The most dangerous, is, of course, the high type calibers, such as large rifles and shot guns. The BB or pellet guns are, however, more destructive than these larger guns when they are used maliciously or carelessly.

For example, on July 6, two canoes left Grayling en route to Mio on at least a two day trip of approximately 60 miles. One canoe carried three boys of from 12 - 16 years of age — plus one BB gun, rifle type. The other canoe carried by one small boy and a mature capable and intelligent man.

When at frequent and various times the three boys were not within sight of the older man, who was chaperoning the boys, they used this BB gun to shoot holes through boat house screens, windows and other private property along the stream.

These boys upon being apprehended, were found to be well-mannered, likeable kids, but the combination of the boy, the gun, and the windows were too much.

It is hoped the printing of this letter will impress upon everyone the necessity of eliminating such occurrences.

It is not known how many other damaging shots were made at various residences, because the majority of these buildings were unoccupied during that week.

Three were found within a mile of the stream and within 16 miles of the start of the trip taken. Multiply this by the total length of the trip, and you will see the seriousness of the matter.

The ending point of beginning is the point as much as possible. Now we need the cooperation of the canoeists themselves.

It has now been determined that more than 30 cottages along the stream suffered the fate outlined above, between July 1 and July 15. It is imperative that be brought to the attention of the canoeists and canoe liveries.

Needless to say, the full penalties of the law will be enforced in each and every instance in the future.

Publication of the above information will be carried out in several down state newspapers.

THE WORLD OUTDOORS
By RICH HENNING
EARLY on a recent June morn, some of the folks in Frankfort, Kentucky thought their fair city had been invaded. An assortment of characters in camouflage clothing, with faces stained green and black, roamed the downtown streets, making strange noises with a reed apparatus which hung by a string about their neck when not in use.

Not from Mars were these men, but from various sections of the country and they had gathered in this Central Kentucky city for the 22nd Annual National Crow Shooting and Calling Competition. The reed apparatus: a crow call.

But the annual national competition is the "major leagues" insofar as crow shooters are concerned. This year, for the third straight time, callers and shooters came to Frankfort, and for the third straight year, new records for individual, doubles, and total kills were taken the first day. Harold Skinner, a Kentuckian, accounted for more than 50 to take individual honors. The shooters left from a State Game Farm checkpoint and were given three hours to call and shoot. Heavy foliage and underbrush on the Kentucky hillside added to the crow shooters' problems. Many knocked down pesky black birds they weren't able to find and bring back to the checkpoint.

It was a big day for crow shooters from New York, Indiana, Ohio, Texas, and many other states... fellows like Joe Duff of Hattiesburg, Miss., and O. L. Green, Marion, Ala. As a team, the two took second place in the doubles, with 52 birds. Green took third place singles with 49. Duff took first place honors in the calling contest, earning the title, "National Crow Calling Champion." Each took home several trophies and both are making plans for the next competition.

Orbiting Hot Dogs
Someone has figured out how to make hot dogs orbit the world five times a day, and on a hot day, it's a sight to see. The dogs don't block the sun's rays. Ever since the sandwich was invented, it's been a favorite. This year, for example, will consume about six percent of the American Meat Institute's production. Legend has it that a saint named Louis Fair created the hot dog, handing his customers a hot dog from the juicy meat until it disappeared. When a sausage, a national institution, is good eating, protein, B vitamins and some class with the hot dog, frankfurter 5 1/2 inches long, contains 4.5 grams of protein, 1.5 grams of the B group, and 1.5 grams of fat. What could be more healthy? It's equally at home at the backyard party. And they're easy to see why the frank's popularity is growing.

Orbiting Hot Dogs . . .

Someone has figured out that the frankfurters Americans consume each year could reach the moon and back and circle the world five times. On picnic, baseball and cook-out days, it's small wonder the orbiting hot dogs don't block the sun's rays.

Ever since the sandwich appeared on the scene, its taste and convenience have made it an all-American favorite. This year, for example, the average American will consume about six pounds of the popular frank, the American Meat Institute estimates.

Legend has it that a sausage peddler at the 1883 St. Louis Fair created the wiener sandwich. He had been handing his customers white gloves to protect them from the juicy meat until the gloves and his profits began to disappear. When he wrapped a bun around the sausage, a national institution was born.

Franks are good eating and good for you, too. For protein, B vitamins and digestibility, franks are in the same class with the noblest steak. For instance, one frankfurter 5 1/2 inches by 3/4 inches in diameter contains 4.5 grams of protein, appreciable quantities of vitamins of the B group, iron and a modest 146 calories.

What could be more versatile than the friendly frank? It's equally at home at the ballpark, a beach outing, the backyard patio, a picnic and a queen's lawn party. And they're easy on the budget. It's easy to see why the frank's popularity is unswerving.

Misleading Comparison . . .

Much has been made of the fact that numbers of medicines cost less in other countries than here. And some people deduce that the American consumer is being exploited.

Actually, price comparisons between one country and another, no matter what the commodity or service in question, present an extremely difficult problem — the variables are enormous in number and complex in character. But one of the most important of those variables is measurable — wages. U. S. wage costs are at least three times those of Europe, and still higher than those of other regions. That's why, to take a simple example, a haircut costs only 42 cents in Dublin.

The pharmaceutical companies which produce the medicines pay American wages — not European or Asiatic wages. And these companies can't offset the labor cost differential by mechanization or other money-saving innovations. Obviously, the thinking of a biochemist in a research laboratory cannot be mechanized.

Moreover, a judgment based on prices alone is a fallacious and misleading one. A far more accurate indicator is the hours of labor it takes the average worker to earn enough to buy a given amount of a product. This comparison has been made in the case of an important and typical drug. It was found—based on 1959 retail prices—that it took West German, Canadian, Italian and Japanese workers much longer to earn the price than it did the American workers. Only in France was the working time involved somewhat less than in the United States.

Our wage standards are the highest in the world. Our price levels must reflect that fact.

Miss Elaine McDonnell, 20-year-old daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. James McDonnell, will reign over the colorful Grayling Canoe Carnival August 7 and 8 under the title of "Queen of the A-Sable." Queen Elaine is a junior at Central State Teachers' College, Mt. Pleasant. L. A. Walton, league committee member, compiled a list of Grayling girls eligible for the position as queen and these names were placed in a hat. Editor—O. F. Schumann, of the Crawford County Avalanche, drew the slip that gave Miss McDonnell the honor. Meanwhile, arrangements for the canoe trip are progressing rapidly under the direction of Ernie Borchers.

Miss Dorothy Wakeley, daughter of Mrs. and the late Seely Wakeley, was united in marriage to Mr. Rudolph Bertl of Roscommon Saturday morning. Rev. Twin Bridges

By Esther Horstik

The Buehler Cabin on North Twin Bridge Road, Lovells was the recent scene of a very happy reunion of three Detroit couples who had been neighbors and friends for many years before their retirement. All arrived with well-filled picnic baskets and the day was spent in reminiscing and catching up on the news, snapshots were taken, movies were made and a most delightful time was enjoyed by all. Those present for the happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zank of Edmore, Mr. and Mrs. Milton O'Connor of Gaylord, and Mr. A. Montgomery (a cousin and guest of the O'Connors), also the host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buehler, of Antwerp, Ohio, who are spending a few weeks at their cabin.

Another reunion is planned for August 18th at the O'Connor's home in Gaylord, when the same group of friends will have a barbecue and show the movies made around the Buehler cabin. Also a scene of the Herricks hound dog "Chum" in action at the Twin Bridges where he killed a large "Water Moccasin" snake. "Good for you Chum!" there will be extra treats for that job.

The Macki and Werners of Detroit spent the weekend at their respective cabins.

The Bill Heyworths of Flint were up to their cabins over the weekend and had the pleasure of visiting with their son and family Bob Heyworth of Flint and their 6 grandchildren. Mrs. Bob Heyworth is Mrs. Louise Haefka's daughter.

Our beautiful crop of blueberries are at their peak and a lot of people are really taking full advantage of the fact.

Grayling Michigan with a population of 2000 is every night turned into a city of soldiers, which supplies nearly 8000 citizen-soldiers of the Michigan Army National Guard. Many of the Guardsmen bring their families up to this small northern community while performing summer training at Camp Grayling. Shown loading up is Robert L. Smith, Midland and his wife Lorraine with corn on the cob with Bob Warner, manager of Glen's Market. Looking on are the Smith's neighbors at a trailer park near Camp, Sgt Howard J. VanTil, Grand Rapids and wife Arlene, Glen's Market normal tonnage per week in supplies is 12 but with National Guardsmen at Camp Grayling shopping for supplies they have had to increase to 21 tons per week.

Summer Breezes Soon To Bring Hay Fever Sniffles To Millions

SOME SUMMER BREEZES will soon be loaded with sneezes for hay fever sufferers.

The southern half of the lower peninsula is considered to be almost totally a high pollen-count area. Ragweed pollen causes the discomfort, and for the several years that regular checks were made the pollen count changed very little.

This means that hay fever tends to remain with us as communities grow.

Coldwater in Branch County was known as the hay fever capital of the United States in 1958. It had a pollen count of 190—highest average registered anywhere.

But several other Michigan areas were not far behind and there is no indication that the pesky pollen from ragweed has let up any.

That the Michigan Health Department calls the "sneezing season" reaches a peak between the middle of August and the middle of September. Some sufferers begin to feel the telltale tickle in the nose about July, however.

Of course pollen isn't the only villain in the picture, but it's by far the most active and the most prevalent.

Some 15 species of ragweed produce most of the discomfort, but tumbleweed, fireweed, sage, hemp and pigweed are also suspect. The pollen also irritates the eyes, runny nose and other discomforts from mayflies, caddis flies, mushroom flies, animal fur or feathers.

This year, as every year, the Health Department is making a plea to landowners and municipal authorities to cut down as much ragweed as possible.

This year, as in other years, people will suffer because the villainous weeds can't all be disposed of.

For those who can go north to avoid hay fever, Northern Michigan is practically pollen-free. Shots or other remedial symptom relievers are also available.

But for countless thousands, the only outlook is suffering until fall frosts take the pollen out of the air.

And the suffers in Southern Michigan can almost take a perverse pride in being real veterans of the hay fever wars.

BESIDES A RAFT of new names, ballots used in the Nov. 8th general election in Michigan this year will have a slightly different appearance. But the voter will have to look closely to spot it.

The Republican party has announced its vignette—the little picture labeling its candidates—will have a 50-star flag this year. Democrats made no immediate plans to follow their rivals in changing the vignette to take into consideration the fact that Hawaii and Alaska are now part of the United States.

The flag which forms the background for pictures of Abraham Lincoln and Dwight D. Eisenhower on the GOP sections of the ballot will have the extra two stars. Republican ballots for Aug. 2nd primary election will also have the new look.

For the primary, the Democratic vignette has a picture of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gov. G. Mennen Williams—backed by a 48-star flag. The party will probably change the vignette to include 50 stars before Sept. 20th.

That's the deadline for setting the wording of local propositions which will be on the ballot and if a change were in the hands of county clerks by that time, it could probably be made with little difficulty.

ONE-HORSE TOWNS and one-teacher schools are a part of the Michigan scene which may never completely pass out of existence. But the number of one-teacher schools—defined by the Michigan Education Association as a public elementary school with only one teacher, located in a rural or urban area, including one or more rooms and comprising one or more grades—has been whittled down.

The MEA said there were 7,206 one-teacher schools in 1918, but only 1,201 by the 1958-59 school year.

Nationally nearly 40,000 children attended one-teacher schools last year. This is about 1.1 per cent of all children enrolled in public schools and 1.6 per cent of all public school children in grades one through eight.

By comparison, about a quarter of all school children attended a one-teacher school in 1918.

More than 84 per cent of the teachers in the one-teacher schools said they would choose the same working conditions again if given a choice. About 63 per cent of them had less than four years of college.

The average salary for a Michigan teacher in a one-teacher school was $3,649 a year in 1958-59, compared with $5,504 which is the average salary for all Michigan public school teachers in the same period, the MEA said.

Crawford County Notaries Named

Nearly 30,000 Notaries Public now serve Michigan citizens in all 83 counties.

According to James M. Hare, Secretary of State, all of these Notaries are covered by a $1,000.00 bond to insure that he or she "shall duly and faithfully discharge the duties" of the office.

Hare today released the names of men and women residing in Crawford County who have been appointed or re-appointed as Notaries Public during the second quarter of 1960. They are: Marie Malloy, and Mildred E. Grayling, and Patrick E. Harwood, of Lovells.

An Open Letter To The Voters Of Crawford County:

WHY YOU SHOULD ELECT

FRED FLEMMING

AS YOUR STATE

REPRESENTATIVE

FOR THE PRESQUE ISLE DISTRICT

Are you tired of the tax mess in Michigan—of reading about unbalanced budgets, state deficits, and all the talk about new and higher taxes? Well, Fred is—and that's one of the reasons he wants to work for you as your State Representative in Lansing.

Fred Flemming has a progressive program to build Northern Michigan, which includes such things as Fair Tax Revision and possible reductions, a better Farm Marketing and Research Program to increase our farmers' income, to strengthen and improve our educational system, expansion of our tourist industry by adding facilities and lengthening the season so as to provide year around employment.

Fred Flemming is for a Deer Herd Control Law based on local conditions so that you and I, the people that know the situation, will have a voice in making the laws—not the Wayne County legislators who know nothing about our problems.

Fred has an Industrial Expansion Program that will utilize our natural resources locally, that will provide hundreds of jobs for both our young and older people right here in the north country. We spend thousands of dollars to educate our youth and should not have to send them elsewhere to seek employment.

YOU—MR. AND MRS. VOTER CAN HELP BUILD NORTHERN MICHIGAN WITH YOUR VOTE ON AUGUST 2ND BY SENDING

FRED FLEMMING

TO LANSING TO REPRESENT YOU IN THE STATE LEGISLATURE. FRED WILL WORK FULL TIME FOR YOU (not part time). FRED HAS LIVED AND WORKED HIS ENTIRE LIFE IN THE PRESQUE ISLE DISTRICT.

HAROLD V. STARK

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR

STATE

REPRESENTATIVE

(Presque Isle District)

U-2 should be sure to vote at the Primary August 2nd and get others to do likewise.

U-2 should remember that there are five candidates for the nomination as State Representative on the Republican ticket.

U-2 should know as much as possible about each candidate in order to pick the one you can vote for in the November election.

U-2 SHOULD KNOW THAT:

Harold Stark is an able, energetic and experienced man in good health and in the prime of life. He belongs to and regularly attends the church of his choice.

He is a fine public speaker; able to think on his feet and get his message across without reading it. He has had a variety of business and political experiences which renders him uniquely qualified for the office he seeks.

He was born in this area and has lived here most of his life. He knows northern Michigan and its people.

He understands roads, their construction, maintenance, and importance to this area.

He actively hunts and fishes and understands conservation.

He has dealt in lumber and real estate and understands those businesses & their importance to us.

He lives on a farm and raises cattle. When farmers hurt, he too feels the pain.

As U-2 can see HAROLD STARK is by far your best candidate for nomination for State Representative from the Presque Isle District.

AT THE AUGUST 2nd PRIMARY, MAY WE COUNT ON U-2?
